Thousands Here

Damages to private properties ran into thousands of dollars as a 7.29 inch rainfall swept the city from Saturday noon until noon today, it was estimated.

Cells Swamped

Virtually every cellar in the city was covered with from several inches to several feet of water. Downtown stores and business places were flooded also, the crest reaching the top of the third step of the postoffice building at the corner of N. Lincoln ave. and E. State st. yesterday afternoon when the rains assumed cloudburst-like proportions.

City service department workers were kept busy all day Sunday pumping water from cellars, attempting to aid the flow of the surplus in badly overtaxed sewer systems throughout the city and erecting warning signs in sections where the congestion was the worst.

Pools Everywhere

Unusually deep pools of water were to be seen almost anywhere in the city and at places the overflow displaced manhole covers, shooting water up out of the system in huge quantities.

Homes And Stores Flooded In 7.29-Inch Weekend Rainfall

Deluge Sets New Rainmark

Worst Rainfall In Years Causes Damages In Thousands Here

Damage to private properties ran into thousands of dollars as a 7.29 inch rainfall swept the city from Saturday noon until noon today, it was estimated.

Although a complete check of the records had not been made today, officials at the city sewage treatment plant believed the rain was the heaviest over a two and half day period ever recorded here.

U. S. Weather Observer L. H. Copeland at Millport said the heaviest fall he had recorded in the past year in a similar period was slightly over six inches.

Cellars Swamped

Virtually every cellar in the city was covered with from several inches to several feet of water. Downtown stores and business places were flooded also, the crest reaching the top of the third step of the postoffice building at the corner of N. Lincoln ave. and E. State st. yesterday afternoon when the rains assumed cloudburst-like proportions.

Water rushed over the sidewalk at this intersection, almost flowing into the ground floor of the J. H. Lease Drug Co. store opposite the postoffice and rose beyond the height of the fireplace at the Arthur building. Six inches of water rose into the basement of the Eagles' home on E. State and many cellars were filled to the first floor.

City service department workers were kept busy all day Sunday pumping water from cellars, attempting to aid the flow of the surplus in badly overtaxed sewer systems throughout the city and erecting warning signs in sections where the congestion was the worst.

The water department this morning borrowed additional pumps from the Deming Co. to help ease the situation but reported that should the rainfall continue at its weekend pace, the city's utilities would be endangered.

The downpour began at 2 p. m. Saturday after intermittent showers had fallen throughout the morning and continued until just before noon today.

Pools Everywhere

Unusually deep pools of water were to be seen almost anywhere in the city and at places the overflow displaced manhole covers, shooting water up out of the system in huge quantities.

Debris littered nearly every city street as a result of the terrific force of water to the lower places. The overflow at the N. Lincoln-E. State st. intersection grew so bad that police were forced to divert traffic from that area for nearly three hours Sunday afternoon.

On W. Seventh st., just west of N. Ellsworth ave., one of the most severe conditions occurred as water gathered in a gully there and flooded several houses, causing extensive damage to fixtures and furniture.

DID RAIL STRIKE MOVE HURT DEMOCRATS?

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON, May 27—A. F. Whitney's threat to stack the entire $47,000,000 treasury of his trainmen's union against a second term for President Truman set politically-conscious Washington puzzling today.

The big question was: What will organized labor do this fall and in 1948, now that Mr. Truman has gone "tough" on major strikes?

Whitney so far is the first to venture a flat prediction. Bitter over the White House terms on which he and Alvanley Johnston of the Trainmen's Brotherhood were forced to settle the two-day railroad strike, Whitney told a reporter:

"Truman never will be president again after 1948."

But another Brotherhood leader questioned Whitney's view:

T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's union, said he argued with Whitney's contention that the chief executive's call for vast new powers to deal with major strikes would be harmful to labor.

However, to a direct question whether he considered the President's handling of the railroad strike politically damaging, Cashen replied:

"No, I don't think so. Why should labor criticize him for doing the only thing he could do under the circumstances?"

Cashen's union was not involved in the strike call.

Other labor leaders steered clear of immediate comment on the fast-breaking weekend developments stemming from the rail strike. These include AFL President William Green, CIO Chief Philip Murray and John L. Lewis, whose longstanding coal dispute now headlines the labor news. Green and Murray, however, said they might have statements later.

Capitol Hill seemed inclined to the belief that Mr. Truman's quick, decisive action to end the railroad tieup had enhanced his prestige.

Empty Terminal, Soon To Be Filled

Here's a shot of the Cleveland Union terminal, vacated almost completely early Saturday as the rail strike, then in full effect, had the nation literally hog-tied.

Trains began to roll over the nation soon afterwards and places like Cleveland's large Union terminal again became filled with people.

TWO CANTON WOMEN INJURED SATURDAY

Three traffic accidents occurred over the weekend, state highway reports said today, two persons suffering minor injuries.

Dora Wilson, 36, supervisor of the Canton school of nurses, and Elsa Evey, 52, also of Canton, were injured slightly when a blowout of a rear tire caused their car to overturn at 9:30 p. m. Saturday on Route 62, near Canfield.

Miss Wilson, driver of the car, was treated for lacerations of both hands while Miss Evey received a possible fracture of the left elbow.

No one was injured when cars operated by Robert N. Stull, 25, of East Liverpool, and Marian H. Deer of Mamaroneck, N. Y., sideswiped at 1:40 a. m. Sunday on Route 30, near Westville.

Travelling in opposite directions, both cars were in the center of the highway, patrolmen said.

A car driven by Wallace Diehl of Deerfield and a truck operated by J. A. Wilson of Bucyrus, collided at 3:30 a. m. Sunday at the junction of Routes 62 and 173.

No one was injured.

Sees Bread, Brains, Beauty, Brotherhood World Needs

The fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man are requisites in building a warless world, Dr. J. A. Scott, pastor of the Methodist church, told his congregation at the Sunday morning worship service when the church had as guests allied patriotic orders of the city.

As has been their custom for many years, the members of these organizations attend some church in a body the Sunday before Memorial day.

The pastor pointed out that the objectives of such an occasion was not to glorify war, but to remember those who turned their backs on ease and gave their lives for their country.

Using for his subject, "A Warless World," Dr. Scott said many are inclined to doubt that we can have a warless world, but if we are to have it, there will be something to do. "Nothing constructive just happens. We must have men and women with new visions and new attitudes in planning this world."

Visiting a new world, Dr. Scott sees four essentials—bread, brains, beauty and brotherhood.

"If we are going to have a warless world mankind must have bread—bread is basic and tremendously important."

"Religion will not find root in the homes of hungry people. Bread and religion are closely related."

The speaker expressed the opinion that brains without character are more dangerous than ignorance and that we do not live by brains alone.

In stressing brotherhood for a warless world, Dr. Scott said, "Selfishness is a basic sin. Jesus taught His followers that those who would be great must serve."

Special music included a vocal solo, "There is no Death," by Donald R. Aubill and an anthem, "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled," by the choir. Homer S. Taylor, organist, was the accompanist.

Sees Price Hikes On Dairy Products

WASHINGTON, May 27—The government is on the verge of letting prices go up a cent a quart for milk and 10 to 12 cents a pound for butter.

Disclosing this today, officials who withheld use of their names, said also that cheese will cost about 5 cents a pound more.

These officials, predicting an announcement in a day or so, cited two reasons for the decision to boost retail price ceilings:

1. Grain and seed price increases earlier this month hiked dairy production costs.

2. Price stabilization officials have decided it would be futile to try to put through any new food subsidies in view of the opposition in congress.

On the basis of the latter point, previous plans for a dairy subsidy increase July 1 are being withdrawn. This, officials said, will account for about half of the impending price jump.

The decision to allow higher prices was reached at conferences between officials of the OPA, Agriculture department and Office of Economic Stabilization.

Ohio Orchards Hard Hit

COLUMBUS, May 27—Northern Ohio orchards were hit hardest by spring frosts, reports F. H. Beach of the Ohio State university agricultural extension service. He predicted Ohio as a whole would harvest a very small crop of sweet and sour cherries; few plums and pears; a light apple crop; a fair amount of grapes; and half as many peaches as in 1945.

Hard Coal Miners Set For Strike In 4 Days

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 27—With only four days remaining before their contract ends, hard coal mine owners and the AFL-United Mine Workers today sought to reach agreement which would prevent a strike by Pennsylvania's 75,000 anthracite miners.

Like the soft coal union, hard coal miners have held traditionally to a "no contract, no work" policy. The UMW has filed notice of intent to strike.

Thomas Kennedy, UMW secretary treasurer, served notice Saturday the union would terminate its wage-hour contract next Thursday at midnight. Negotiations will continue at least until the May 30 deadline, both sides said.

The fundamental objection urged by opponents was summarized by Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) who told newsmen the powers which would be vested in the President are too sweeping.

Besides requesting the draft-strikers authority and criminal penalties against employers or union leaders, the President's program included provisions for:

1. Transfer to the U. S. Treasury of all profits from government operation of a seized industry.

2. Injunction proceedings against union leaders inciting or encouraging a strike in a government-owned enterprise.

3. Arbitration to fix wage scales in strikes requiring government seizure.

4. The loss of seniority rights for workers persisting in striking against the government.

Several senators privately criticized the idea of having profits going to the treasury and one Democratic lawmaker, who would not be quoted directly, declared: "This means the nationalization of industry."

The measure would fix June 30, 1947, as the expiration date for the sweeping powers Mr. Truman seeks.

How the senate will line up in the fight stirred lively speculation and set the capital restudying the 49-29 vote by which the chamber passed a stringent labor disputes measure, much along the lines of the Case Strike-Control bill already approved by the house.

It took the senate two weeks of debate before getting to agree Saturday.

Parades, Programs Planned At Grandview and Hope Cemeteries

The American Legion Quaker City and the Salem High school bands will have part in the program arranged for Salem's annual observance of Memorial day, Thursday.

Rev. Roy Allison, supply pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. K. McDivitt of Columbiana, returned army chaplain, will be the speakers.

The celebration is sponsored by Philip Treim camp, Sons of Union Veterans, in cooperation with the allied patriotic orders of the city.

Rev. Allison will speak at Hope cemetery, where Philip Treim camp will be in charge, while Rev. McDivitt, will speak at Grandview cemetery in ceremonies in charge of Allen K. Reynolds post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The parades are scheduled to move promptly at 10 a. m.

The program for Hope cemetery is as follows:

Invocation, Dr. J. A. Scott, pastor of the Methodist church; reading of Gen. Logan's order to the Grand Army of the Republic, C. R. Haldi, president of the day; selection by the band; address, Rev. Allison; reading, Lincoln's Gettysburg address, JoAnn Whitney; "Flanders Field," Nettie House; response, Donna Barnes; closing prayer, Dr. Scott; salute to the dead, Sons of Union Veterans firing squad; taps and echo.

The lineup for the parade to Hope cemetery is as follows:

Pro-Labor Groups May Stop Strike Legislation Today

WASHINGTON, May 27—President Truman's "strike-draft" labor program hit fresh senate trouble today, despite its quick approval by the house.

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) voiced hope of pushing the proposed legislation through by nightfall, with perhaps some modifications, but a number of his colleagues spoke in terms of days.

Renewal of the soft coal crisis, however, put the element of economic uncertainty back into the picture and gave supporters of the program new ammunition.

The threat shaping up to the bill is an unusual coalition of Republicans and pro-labor Democrats who balked at Mr. Truman's recommendations for drafting workers who strike against the government and for slapping criminal penalties on their union leaders.

The way the house whipped through the program by a 306-13 vote within two hours after Mr. Truman addressed the joint session of congress Saturday evidently made little impression on senate critics of the President's plan. They were in a mood to take their time.

The fundamental objection urged by opponents was summarized by Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) who told newsmen the powers which would be vested in the President are too sweeping.

Besides requesting the draft-strikers authority and criminal penalties against employers or union leaders, the President's program included provisions for:

EAST LIVERPOOL WOMAN BRUTALLY SLAIN NEAR OHIO

EAST LIVERPOOL, May 27—Columbiana county police today investigated the slaying of Mrs. Leatha Barrett, 55-year-old grandmother, whose brutally beaten body was found yesterday by two fishermen along State Route 7 near East Liverpool.

The victim, who had been reported missing since Thursday night, was found in a clump of weeds 75 yards from the highway clad only in shoes and stockings. Her clothes had been stripped away and used to camouflage the body.

A post-mortem examination of the woman's body showed that her facial bones had been crushed and that she had been beaten about the head and criminally attacked, Coroner Ernest Sturgiss reported.

A first-degree murder charge was lodged against 30-year-old Lawrence Wheatley of Newell, W. Va., this morning in East Liverpool Municipal court after county authorities had subjected him to questioning last night in Hancock county jail, New Cumberland, W. Va., where he has been imprisoned since Thursday night on a charge of "malicious assault with intent to kill."

The first of the four weekend accidents occurred at 8:05 p. m. Saturday when cars, operated by Donald C. Rosing, Jr., of 1975 N. Ellsworth ave., and Robert L. Dressell of 1154 Oak st., collided at the intersection of N. Lincoln ave. and Sugartree alley.

William R. Wiggers of 362 Perry st. told police that his truck was struck by a car driven by Pete J. Penick of Youngstown at the S. Broadway-Franklin st. intersection. Wiggers was traveling north on S. Broadway and was hit when Penick attempted to turn onto S. Broadway from Franklin.

A taxi driven by John Ferguson was slightly damaged at 3:10 p. m. Sunday when hit by a car, operated by William Hamilton of S. Broadway, on E. State st. near Penn ave. Car driven by Charles Sommers of 518 Franklin st. and Emmor P. Snyder of S. Lincoln ave. figured in an accident at 11:40 p. m. yesterday on W. State st.

Sommers told police that he was stopped at the W. State st. crossing and that his car was hit from the rear, causing slight damage to the left rear fender.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST RALLIES CONTINUE

Salem Youth for Christ rallies will continue through the summer months.

The next rally will be held Saturday evening, June 28, in the Memorial building, with Rev. Dale Mitchell, pastor of the First Nazarene church, Chicago, speaker.

On account of the railroad strike, Johnny Taylor of Wheaton, Ill., scheduled for Saturday night's rally, was unable to be here.

Rev. Russell Myers, pastor of the Alliance Friends church, took his place.

Using for his theme, "Building," Rev. Myers discussed the attributes required in building a worthwhile life. He admonished the young people to build on the "only sure foundation—the blood of Jesus Christ."

A men's quartet from Alliance, composed of Sheldon Wilson, Wesley Christ, Jack Maus and Ralph Oswalt, sang two selections.

The Salem high school orchestra under the direction of C. M. Braunigam, offered a program preceding the service.

Rev. Sherman Brantingham of Winona, directed the young people's choir.

Can Government Assert Itself?

Confidence in the Truman administration's ability to perform as an effective government in this emergency is deeply shaken.

The coal and rail stoppages will have far-reaching political effects, aside from their immediate economic effects, which are too numerous and complex to comprehend.

The Truman administration was heir to the legend that the American labor movement belonged to the political coalition organized by Franklin D. Roosevelt. With the exception of John L. Lewis, Mr. Roosevelt seemed to have all the key figures in the labor union monopoly he helped to organize eating out of his hand.

But it is evident now that the legend had more of fancy than fact in it. What Mr. Lewis demonstrated, that the hand which did the feeding could be bitten, now is being demonstrated on the unsure hand of Harry Truman.

There was less of friendship than hard-bitten expediency in the working alliance between the New Deal coalition and the labor union minority. The Roosevelt administration made concessions and got votes. The unionists gave votes and money and got concessions—quid pro quo.

Labor's support was contingent on complete compliance. Mr. Lewis turned on Mr. Roosevelt, and Mr. Roosevelt turned on Mr. Lewis, just as Philip Murray later was to turn on Harry Truman.

In brief, the politicians who experimented with the exciting possibility of perpetuating one-party rule by manipulating the labor movement, learned that labor bosses themselves had axes to grind. They learned that the bosses of unions were less interested in the party's welfare than their own.

Mr. Truman is reaping a whirlwind that was a long time in the sowing. The fact is, he had a small part in the sowing, but because he is handy and someone has to be the goat he is getting the grief.

At other times in our history, similar things have happened. This isn't the first time men and organizations have grown too big in their own opinion to live under a government of all the people.

High finance and big business had to be trimmed down to size. Several times the grafters and spoilsmen challenged popular sovereignty. This isn't the first time a small group of men have set their power against public welfare.

What we have now is a challenge to government to assert the rights of all the people against the controversial rights of a few—not to any political party or any administration but to government.

It may take a while to get it straightened out. The Trumans, Hannegans, Wallaces and the coterie of weak sisters and last chancers presiding over the collapse of Franklin D. Roosevelt's coalition of old-line Democrats and new-line fixers can't be depended on for much. They have abused their trusteeship of popular sovereignty and sacrificed confidence.

The reassertion of the people's rights, which already has started in Congress, will occur next November at the polls. It will be continued in the presidential election in 1948.

Meanwhile, we will have to hope for the best under the sadder, wiser men of the national majority wondering what they did to deserve all this after years of service to the union bosses who apparently are intent on turning the people against the party in power. If this is friendship, it's a curious way to be showing it.

Tell Us It Isn't So

Overshadowed by strike news is the reported disclosure by certain members of the House appropriations committee that the United States has developed "germ weapons" capable of wiping out the populations of cities and even plant life in the country.

According to the Associated Press, this horrible technique of destruction already exists in usable form and is an exclusive secret of the United States. First open mention of it occurred Thursday in the House of Representatives during debate on a navy appropriation bill when Representative Albert Thomas of Texas said, "We have something far more deadly than the atomic bomb today—not tomorrow."

Perhaps we should be thrilled by this report of another application of scientific knowledge to the grim business of destroying life on earth. Perhaps we should be thrilled as we were when the atomic bomb was revealed. But the nation then was at war. It wanted desperately to bring the war to a victorious conclusion. When the war was over, misgivings and remorse took the place of exultation about the atomic bomb.

Today, men's fervent hope is that the atomic bomb may never be used again. The new weapon, more terrible still—tell us it isn't so.

Russia's Secret of Success

What appears to be Russia's strong hand in diplomacy is likely to seem on closer examination a kind of negativism, embarrassing to other governments and dangerous to Russia itself.

If there had been any doubt about Russian diplomatic tactics, it would have been removed by Secretary of State Byrnes' account of his efforts to get Foreign Commissar Molotov to agree on something—almost anything—at Paris. The real reason for what many persons see as evidence of Russian strength in diplomacy is the fact that Russia has failed so far to make constructive contributions. Its foreign policy has been to find objections to all positive proposals. The secret of its diplomatic success, if obstructionism can be called success, is that it has been letting its wartime allies take the initiative in postwar diplomacy, while it exercised veto power. Saying no is not a policy, but the absence of a policy.

If the United States and Great Britain, jointly accused by Russia of conspiracy to injure its security and prestige by setting forth proposals, were to join in this kind of negativism, negotiations for peace and cooperative security would have been abandoned by this time. Whatever may be Russia's reasons for dragging its feet—and some of them may seem compelling, to Russians—it must take responsibility in world opinion for the effect of its negative position, which is to frustrate and deny the hopes of millions who wanted to believe that the nations could cooperate after World War II. Soviet negativism is not a substitute for Soviet cooperation.

PARTICULARLY promising and productive conditions are among the auguries found in this day's astral configurations, those affecting the business, financial, professional and artistic life as well as all pertaining to the domestic, social and affectional aims.

While there is an idealistic, sentimental and romantic slant to all the objectives yet all may be lost or endangered by impractical, or undeveloped plans, or techniques.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a pleasant and profitable year, with much in the personal as well as business life reaching happy culminations.

A child born on this day may lean toward the finer and higher aspirations and objectives yet may be compelled to wrestle with realistic and tangible difficulties.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Effects of Emotions On Health

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

EMOTION is a thing of the mind and spirit but it also affects the body.

An outburst of anger, for instance, quickens the heart, tenses the muscles and sets the whole body in fighting trim. Grief slows every vital process, acting as a brake where anger serves as a spur. Fear shows in the sharply in-drawn breath and paling skin.

It is not surprising then, that long-continued emotional tensions—the dimmer, habitual forms of these states of overwhelming feeling—can also cause bodily changes just as surely as bacteria or injury.

Some such factor is thought to be at the root of persistent headaches which occur from time to time over a period of years.

Psychogenic Headache
One of these chronic headaches is known as psychogenic headache. The disorder occurs most often in women. They often have the headaches over a period of 15 to 25 years. The headaches come on gradually. The location varies.

Before the headache occurs, there may be sensitivity to light, dimness of eyesight, and sickness to the stomach. In practically all cases, the headaches are worse during the regular periods, and often start during menstruation.

According to Doctors Arnold P. Friedman and Charles Brunner of New York, temporary relief may be obtained by combinations of aspirin and caffeine. Together with these drugs one of the drugs known as barbiturates also may be administered to give prolonged relief.

Testosterone, a glandular extract given by injection into a muscle 10, 7 and 3 days before the period gives relief to some patients.

A preparation known as stilbestrol is sometimes helpful in relieving the headaches which occur during the change of life in women.

Treatment with drugs alone often is not sufficient to bring about a cure in most cases. Psychologic treatment is also suggested.

For example, an attempt is made to determine just what things in the person's surroundings or in her activities seem to bring on the headaches.

If this can be found and the facts explained to the patient, it may make her aware of certain motives and aims which she never fully recognized. Then attempts can be made to change the environment or surroundings and develop a normal way of living. This, in turn, relieves nervous tension and thus may aid in permanently relieving the headaches.

Of course, not all headaches are of this type and it must be remembered that in every case, headache, is a symptom not a disease. This means that to cure a headache, the doctor must first find and cure the disorder which is causing it. Thus, the headaches which are caused by acute infections disappear after the illness clears up.

Headaches occur in many disorders which have nothing else in common; hence, it is only careful investigation and treatment of the cause that relief from the headache can be obtained.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, May 28

PARTICULARLY promising and productive conditions are among the auguries found in this day's astral configurations, those affecting the business, financial, professional and artistic life as well as all pertaining to the domestic, social and affectional aims.

While there is an idealistic, sentimental and romantic slant to all the objectives yet all may be lost or endangered by impractical, or undeveloped plans, or techniques.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a pleasant and profitable year, with much in the personal as well as business life reaching happy culminations.

A child born on this day may lean toward the finer and higher aspirations and objectives yet may be compelled to wrestle with realistic and tangible difficulties.

A Wisconsin man has driven almost 300,000 miles in his car. Parking space is scarce here, too!

Our idea of a bad insurance risk is an innocent bystander.

Folks who play the races usually win more with horseshoe luck than with horse sense.

The wise man has nothing to do with the fellow who has nothing to do till tomorrow.

Lots of the seeds being planted now will come up—but not to expectations.

No one ever cleans up by consistently betting on horse races, says a writer. Not by a long shot!

People who can't hit it off together should strike out for themselves.

Summertime is what school is out for and mother is in for!

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Effects of Emotions On Health

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
EMOTION is a thing of the mind and spirit but it also affects the body.

An outburst of anger, for instance, quickens the heart, tenses the muscles and sets the whole body in fighting trim. Grief slows every vital process, acting as a brake where anger serves as a spur. Fear shows in the sharply in-drawn breath and paling skin.

It is not surprising then, that long-continued emotional tensions the dimmer, habitual forms of these states of overwhelming feeling—can also cause bodily changes just as surely as bacteria or injury.

Some such factor is thought to be at the root of persistent headaches which occur from time to time over a period of years.

Psychogenic Headache
One of these chronic headaches is known as psychogenic headache. The disorder occurs most often in women. They often have the headaches over a period of 15 to 25 years. The headaches come on gradually. The location varies.

Before the headache occurs, there may be sensitivity to light, dimness of eyesight, and sickness to the stomach. In practically all cases, the headaches are worse during the regular periods, and often start during menstruation.

According to Doctors Arnold P. Friedman and Charles Brenner of New York, temporary relief may be obtained by combinations of aspirin and caffeine. Together with these drugs one of the drugs known as barbiturates also may be administered to give prolonged relief.

Testosterone, a glandular extract given by injection into a muscle 10, 7 and 3 days before the period gives relief to some patients.

A preparation known as stilbestrol is sometimes helpful in relieving the headaches which occur during the change of life in women.

Treatment with drugs alone often is not sufficient to bring about a cure in most cases. Psychologic treatment is also suggested.

For example, an attempt is made to determine just what things in the person's surroundings or in her activities seem to bring on the headaches.

If this can be found and the facts explained to the patient, it may make her aware of certain motives and aims which she never fully recognized. Then attempts can be made to change the environment or surroundings and develop a normal way of living. This, in turn, relieves nervous tension and thus may aid in permanently relieving the headaches.

Of course, not all headaches are of this type and it must be remembered that in every case, headache, is a symptom, not a disease. This means that to cure a headache, the doctor must first find and cure the disorder which is causing it. Thus, the headaches which are caused by acute infections disappear after the illness clears up.

Headaches occur in many disorders which have nothing else in common; hence, it is only careful investigation and treatment of the cause that relief from the headache can be obtained.

Miss Piticar, Cleveland Man Married In Sunday Rites

Lighted by white candles in tall white seven-branch candelabra tied with large white bows of maline, the Christian church was the scene of a beautiful wedding at 3:30 p. m. Sunday when Miss Helen Piticar of W. Tenth st., and John S. Candea of Cleveland were united in marriage by Rev. C. F. Evans, the pastor. He performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Bates Is Bride At High Mass Saturday

Using the double ring ceremony in a high mass, Rev. Fr. Richard Gaffney officiated at the marriage of Miss Rose Marie Bates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bates of the Goshen rd., and Edward John Zilavy, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Zilavy of E. Pershing st., at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Palms, ferns and bouquets of white snapdragons decorated the altar, flanked with white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra, making a lovely setting for the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a beautiful white satin and net gown. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. The net skirt, trimmed with satin medallions, ended in a train.

Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a tiara ornamented with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid and stephanotis and showered with sweetpeas.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. They met the groom, and his best man, John Musat of Canton, at the altar.

The bride was lovely in a creation of white satin and net. The satin bodice, with sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves, was attached to a full net overskirt with satin applique medallions, ending in a court train. Her French illusion veil fell from a Dutch bonnet with medallion applique.

She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, white orchids and forget-me-nots showered with white sweetpeas and maiden hair fern.

The matron of honor was dressed in blue chiffon and lace wore a Dutch cap of shirred tulle. Her bouquet of Briarcliff roses and maiden hair fern was tied with pink tulle.

The bridesmaids, both attired in pink net and lace gowns with matching Dutch caps, carried bouquets of deep orchid and pink sweetpeas tied with orchid tulle.

Mrs. Piticar and Mrs. Candea were dressed in navy blue crepe and wore pink rosebud corsages. Sixty-five relatives and friends were entertained at a dinner and reception in the Lape hotel. The bride's table was enhanced with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom and bowls of flowers.

Sunday when Miss Helen Piticar of W. Tenth st., and John S. Candea of Cleveland were united in marriage by Rev. C. F. Evans, the pastor. He performed the double ring ceremony.

WATCH OUT FOR PLAYING CHILDREN
DURING SUMMER, MOTORISTS WARNED

The end of the school year, throwing boys and girls out into the playgrounds and onto the streets for recreation, calls for added care and caution on the part of drivers of motor vehicles, according to Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbus County Automobile club.

During the summer vacation, children lose the safety services of a third of a million schoolboy patrolmen, who are on duty only during the school term.

It is therefore important that all drivers make certain to operate their vehicles at reasonable rates of speed and keep those vehicles in top-flight condition so that they can be stopped effectively and quickly when an emergency arises.

Automobile accidents involving children of school age always rise during the summer vacation months. Exuberance over the release from studies and routine days may be one great cause for these youngsters forgetting temporarily the safety rules and habits they have learned in school hours. A child or group of children ahead is an immediate signal to TAKE IT EASY!

Britain Expands

After 108 years of personal rule by the "White Rajahs," the independent state of Sarawak, in northern Borneo, becomes part of the British Empire. Sir Charles Vyner Brooke (top), present "White Rajah," has just ceded his realm, shown on map below, to the British Crown. In 1838 the first white rajah, James Brooke, was elected to rule the country by the people and the native Rajah Muda, whose subjects proved more than he could handle. Brooke governed, financed and controlled Sarawak singlehanded. His nephew, Charles Brooke, succeeded on his death in 1868, and when he died, in 1917, the present rajah took over.

Boats From Bombs

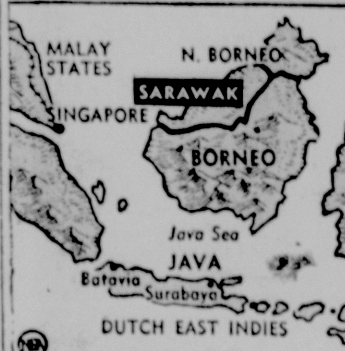

COLUMBUS — Parker Huddy, war veteran with an idea, has established his own business—making fishing boats from out-of-date metal gasoline bombs.

Huddy purchased 1,000 surplus tanks designed for C-54 transport planes and which later were to have been used as gasoline bombs against the Japanese.

Millions For Beauty
PITTSBURGH—Pittsburgh women spend $37,500, 000 a year staying "young and beautiful."

If the treatments involved in the million-dollar business done by the district's 1,500 beauty shops were divided equally, it would amount to $107 per woman per year, or $8.93 a month.

Britain Expands

After 108 years of personal rule by the "White Rajahs," the independent state of Sarawak, in northern Borneo, becomes part of the British Empire. Sir Charles Vyner Brooke (top), present "White Rajah," has just ceded his realm, shown on map below, to the British Crown. In 1838 the first white rajah, James Brooke, was elected to rule the country by the people and the native Rajah Muda, whose subjects proved more than he could handle. Brooke governed, financed and controlled Sarawak singlehanded. His nephew, Charles Brooke, succeeded on his death in 1868, and when he died, in 1917, the present rajah took over.

On or after this date, I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by any person except myself.

Senators Closing In On Red Sox In American League Chase

GI Mickey Vernon Leading Nats Drive With 405 Mark At the Plate—League's Top

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Don't look now, but those amazing Washington Senators practically are breathing on the necks of the second place New York Yankees and have closed within 7½ games of Boston's American league leaders.

Overhauled by the Red Sox with their spectacular early-season 15-game winning streak, the Nats, after a dismal start kept pecking away and since May 12 have won 19 of their last 22 games to climb from deep in the second division to third place.

Spearheading the Nats' advance has been their GI first baseman, Mickey Vernon, who only through the grace of GI Bill of Rights is with the team. Vernon remained on the Senators' roster only because, as a returning veteran, he was entitled to a 30-day trial. Meantime Manager Ossie Bluege used Jack Sanford and Joe Kuehl at the initial sack. Then Bluege experimented with Vernon, and once in the lineup hits began flying off Mickey's bat with astonishing regularity.

Vernon's pace was so terrific that the Marcus Hook, Pa., boy currently is leading all major league hitters with a 405 batting mark and has hit in 22 consecutive games.

Vernon collected three of the Nats' eight hits yesterday, including his fourth home run, to pace Washington to a 3-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics. Rain washed out the second game of a scheduled doubleheader. Vernon also drove in a run and came home with one of the two tallies. Gerry Priddy accounted for with his game-winning triple in the sixth inning.

The Red Sox, aided by Tex Hughson's masterful pitching, gained an even split with the Yankees Sunday for a 2-1 game edge in a "crucial" weekend series. Hughson blanked the Yanks with three hits in the opener to shade Floyd Bevens, 1-0. A walk to Ted Williams in the seventh with the bases loaded forced over the only run. Homers by Joe DiMaggio and Phil Rizzuto, the latter with one on, gave the Yanks the nightcap, 4-1. Joe Page outpitched Mickey Harris in the seven inning contest, halted by rain and darkness. It was Harris' first defeat after seven straight triumphs.

Those dashing Dodgers extending their latest win streak to seven straight by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from the Phils in Philadelphia 5-4 and 6-2. The twin triumph, together with the St. Louis Cards split in Cincinnati, increased the Dodgers first place lead to two and a half games.

Brooklyn had to go 11 innings in the opener. A double by Pete Reiser, who had homered earlier in the game, and a single by Carl Furillo provided the winning run off Oscar Judd. The Brooks had a much easier time in the nightcap as Ed Head and Bank Behrman held the Phils to six hits in seven innings. The game was curtailed because of the Pennsylvania curfew law.

Cincinnati came from behind to defeat the Cards 5-4 after the Redbirds had won the opener 4-3. Pinch Hitter Ed Lukon hit a two-run homer in the seventh of the second game to the score at 4-1. Another pinch batter, Ray Lamanno then whacked a single in the eighth to score Eddie Miller with the winning run.

The Chicago White Sox celebrated Teddy Lyons' debut as a big league manager by trimming the Detroit Tigers twice 3-1 and 2-1 and burying the Bengals deeper in fourth place. Veteran Thorm Lee, aided by four Tiger errors, earned the nod over Dizzy Trout in the opener. In the nightcap, another big league debut, 41-year-old Earl Caldwell, pitched excellent relief ball for five frames to best Virgil Trucks. Wally Moses' eighth inning home run was the deciding blow.

Bobby Feller was just another pitcher to the St. Louis Browns who slammed the vaunted fireballer for 15 hits to whip Cleveland 8-2 in the opener of their double header. Steve Gromek handcuffed the Browns, 2-0 with four hits in the nightcap, however. A pinch double by Les Fleming drove in the Cleveland runs.

The New York Giants used a barrage of extra-base hits to bury the Boston Braves under a 12-4 and 7-0 scores at the Polo grounds. Johnny Mize and Buddy Blattner each got two homers in the curtain-raiser to make it easy for Bill Voisard to gain his third victory. One of Blattner's was of the grand slam variety. Bob Carpenter pitched the shutout, giving up four hits.

Pittsburgh handed the Chicago Cubs their fourth straight defeat by belting a trio of hurdes for an 8-2 decision in the opener of a scheduled twin bill. Rain forced postponement of the second game. Jim Russell and Bill Sakfeld homered for the Bucs.

Speedway Veterans Take Indianapolis Time Trial Honors

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—The Indianapolis motor speedway gave drivers an extra five hours today to qualify for the 30th running of the 500-mile race May 30, but a couple of middle-aged pilots already had grabbed about all the honors available in the time trials.

Fifty-year-old Ralph Hepburn of Van Nuys, Calif., veteran of 14 previous races, shattered the qualification records for both one and four laps yesterday in the rebuilt W. S. (Bud) Winfield car from La Canada, Calif.

Hepburn gassed the ultra-streamlined racer around the two-and-a-half-mile course in one minute 6.94 seconds on his fastest lap for a speed of 134.449 miles per hour.

For the ten miles he averaged 133.944 miles per hour. The old records were 130.754 miles per hour for a single lap and 133.138 for four laps, both set by the late Jimmy Snyder in 1939.

The California driver's pal, former movie stunt man Cliff Bergere of Indianapolis, already had won the pole position for the race by turning in the fastest time in opening day qualifications, May 18. Bergere, 49, and also starting his 15th "500," qualified at 126.47 miles per hour.

Hepburn's performance earned him only second position in the seventh row of starters.

Others who qualified yesterday were William (Shorty) Canton of Indianapolis at 122.432 miles per hour; Henry Banks of Lynwood, Calif., at 120.220; and Louis Tomei of Glendale, Calif., at 119.193.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

JOE GRACE, Browns and LES FLEMING, Indians—Grace led a 15-hit attack against Bob Feller with four safeties as Browns won opener 8-2; Fleming's pinch-hit double brought in both Cleveland runs in 2-0 nightcap victory.

TEX HUGHSON, Red Sox and PHIL RIZZUTO, Yanks—Hughson allowed three hits in Red Sox opening game 1-0 win; Rizzuto smashed a two-run home to help Yanks take nightcap 4-1.

BUDDY BLATTNER and BOB CARPENTER, Giants—Blattner drove in five runs with pair of homers in the opening and Carpenter pitched four-hit shutout in the nightcap as Giants beat Braves twice 12-4 and 7-0.

THORNTON LEE and WALLY MOSES, White Sox—Lee pitched a five hit opener and Moses smashed game-winning homer in nightcap as Sox beat Tigers twice 3-1 and 2-1.

JOFFRE CROSS, Cards and RAY LAMANNO, Reds—Cross doubled in two runs in Cards 4-3 first game victory; Lamanno's pinch single scored Ed Miller to give Reds the second, 5-4.

IMPROVED INDIANS MEET BENGAL CLUB IN NIGHT CONTEST

Steve Gromek's Pitching Gains Tribe Split With Browns

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, May 27.—Cleveland's improved Indians open their battle for a first division berth tonight in their first night contest of the season against the champion Detroit Tigers at lakefront stadium.

The Tribe divided a doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns yesterday to maintain its fifth-place tie with the Stewellmen and climb within two and one-half games of the fourth-place Tigers.

Steve Gromek copped his third straight victory and his second shutout by hurling a four-hit 2 to 0 triumph in yesterday's nightcap after Bob Feller yielded eight runs for an 8 to 2 defeat in the opener. The split gave the Indians a 2-1 edge in the series.

Game Played In Rain

Under a steady drizzle, the Tribe scored both its runs in the first inning of the opener. Manager Lou Boudreau opened the frame with a single and a single by Dutch Meyer plus a walk gave the Indians a pair of runs.

The Browns nicked Feller for a single tally in the bottom half of the stanza and Walt Judnich's home run put St. Louis in front 3-2 in the sixth frame.

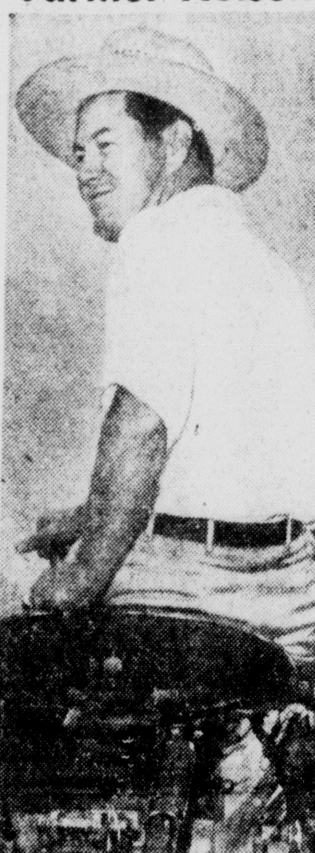

Five more St. Louis runs rolled across the plate in the seventh and eighth innings as Nelson Potter held the Tribe scoreless the rest of the way. The loss snapped Feller's four-game winning streak and gave Bob a season record of six victories and four defeats.

Gromek issued no walks and was never in trouble in the nightcap as Les Fleming sewed up the contest with a two-run pinch-hit double in the seventh.

Charley (Red) Embree, who topped the Tigers 2 to 1 in a 12-inning contest in his last appearance against Detroit, faces Fred Hutchinson tonight.

MANCINI-SIMMONS FIGHT INTEREST SHOWS BIG GAINS

Advance Ticket Sale For Outdoor Battle Makes Sellout Probable

YOUNGSTOWN, May 27.—Advance ticket sales indicate that the greatest crowd in the history of Youngstown boxing will be on hand to see "Boom Boom" Mancini fight his first home-town main bout Thursday against Bobby Simmons, Indiana welterweight champion.

Simmons became a great local favorite when he went ten rounds against Tommy Bell here in Youngstown a month ago. A split decision went to Bell, but the consensus of crowd and press opinion was that Simmons had earned the verdict.

If Simmons wins over Mancini, Promoter Bill Walsh will attempt to match him with Tony Janiro. Walsh today announced that Freddy Walsh of Pittsburgh has been signed to meet Joe Salcone of Warren in one of the four-rounders on the supporting card.

Walsh won the featherweight title in the All-Service Pacific coast tournament, and the Pittsburgher should give Salcone a hard battle. Salcone was a big drawing card in the Warren area before joining the Merchant Marine, and Manager Jack Thompson predicts that Joey will be fighting main events before the indoor season.

Heard about June 30th, Joe?

Here's the story. June 30, 1946, is the last day on which you can enlist...or reenlist...in the Regular Army and still be sure of retaining your old grade and family allowance for the duration of your enlistment.

Those are two very important points. First of all, if you have served with the Army and earned a stripe or two, you can enlist within 90 days after discharge and before July 1, 1946, and be sure of keeping your grade.

And if you have a family and dependents, you can enlist before July 1, 1946, and make sure the family allowance will be continued for a 1½, 2, or 3 year enlistment period.

Those hard-earned stripes mean extra pay. Why throw them away? And your family will live comfortably if you enlist now and get the advantage of the family allowance benefit.

So think it over and act today. These two points mean opportunities for advancement and added pay as well as that all-important security for your family. Stop in at your nearest Regular Army Recruiting Station today. They'll give you all the information you want on that very important date... JUNE 30, 1946.

police at 8:15 p. m. Thursday for firing a pistol from the window of his apartment, one of his shots narrowly missing a child who was playing in the street.

Intensive questioning showed that Wheatley was unable to account for his movements after 4:15 p. m. Thursday. He told police that he had been drinking excessively and remembered nothing from 4:15 p. m. until he woke up in jail.

Wheatley, who allegedly told a service station attendant that he had killed a woman Thursday night, said, "I was only kidding," when asked about the statement last night. He pleaded guilty, however, to a charge of shooting with intent to kill after his arrest.

Sheriff George Hayes reported an East Liverpool taxicab driver asserted he had driven a man and woman to the spot where the body was found. He identified Wheatley as the man and further weakened his story in identifying the victim as the woman who was with him.

Although identified by the cab driver, Wheatley stuck to his story that he remembered nothing and denied that he knew Mrs. Barrett or had been with her Thursday.

The driver told Hayes that the man had hired him for a trip to his home in Newell but that he had changed his mind after picking up Mrs. Barrett. The couple left his cab on Route 7 near the spot where the body was discovered at 6:21 p. m. Thursday, he said. According to the driver, both Wheatley and Mrs. Barrett were intoxicated.

Hayes has departed for Columbus to secure extradition papers since Wheatley has refused to agree to extradition.

quest from the Federal Coal Mines administration.

At 10:15 a. m. (EST.) however, the Solid Fuels administration said it had no report of any UMW mine operating.

Lewis was grimly silent as he emerged from the White House last night. He had not so much as a word for Mr. Truman's demand that congress give him authority to order the arrest of recalcitrant strike leaders and draft their followers into the army.

Were his men going to stick to the pits? The only response was a complete non-committal smile.

What For Lewis

Hence there was nothing on the public record to keep the miners at work beyond the largely ineffective plea of the two men running the soft coal pits for the government. Traditionally the 400,000 United Mine Workers follow Lewis's lead.

But the army provided one hint that some coal might be mined—strike or no. The war department announced last night that a detachment of 150 troops was enroute to Madisonville, Ky., "for the protection of employees of the Pond River Coal mine in Hopkins county."

While the trains were running again—100 per cent back to normal was the word in mid-afternoon yesterday—the government cautioned in lifting its drastic strike-imposed transportation curbs that those restrictions might have to be clamped on again unless the coal supply improves.

But the Office of Defense Transportation turned the railroads back to their private owners, just 24 hours after the settlement.

Mr. Truman plunged into the bituminous crisis last night with his hand strengthened by widespread approval of his speeches Friday and Saturday emphasizing that he will not tolerate strikes which he considers imperiling the nation's economy.

His outspoken criticism of the railroad tieup brought Alvanley Johnston and A. F. Whitney of the two striking Brotherhoods to terms even before he made good his threat to demand greater powers from congress.

Truce Is Over

But he summoned Lewis and UMW Vice President John J. O'Leary to the White House only to have Press Secretary Charles G. Ross announce at the end of the 30-minute conference that the president had nothing to say about the miners' returning to their jobs today.

Lewis called the truce May 10 on the "unanimous authorization" of his 250-member policy committee in a gesture to relieve the crisis then fast building up to a transportation tieup a stoppage of industry and an ever-widening brown-out.

Lewis first planned but then canceled another meeting of his policy committee last Saturday. The cancellation was ordered pending clarification of the union's position under the Smith-Connally act as a result of the government's mine seizure.

advance in the sight of the Almighty ruler of heaven and earth and so all their efforts went to naught.

"May your graduation be indeed the commencement of a life of true Christian warfare for the standards of justice and honesty, morality and service, and then may you be assured that you are advancing in wisdom and age and grace before God and men.

"The world will tempt you at every step with false standards of gain and glory and will point out the easy way to victory. But let us remember that Christ's glorious victory came only after Calvary."

Thomas Williams sang a solo, "My Cathedral" (McNeill-Blaufues) with Miss Ann Helm as accompanist.

The High school orchestra, directed by C. M. Brautigam, furnished music.

Rev. G. D. Keister gave the invocation. The Scripture was read by Rev. R. J. Hunter. Rev. C. P. Evans offered prayer and Rev. Robert E. Mosher pronounced the benediction.

The stage was attractively decorated with large baskets of mixed flowers and palms.

Twenty seniors from a graduation class attended mass in a body Sunday morning at St. Paul's Catholic church.

Thirty-four children received their first communion at St. Paul's 9 o'clock mass.

One resident reported that water had reached the first floor of his home.

The Bohr greenhouse on N. Lincoln ave. also suffered extensive damage while on E. Pershing st., between Washington and N. Lincoln avenues, cellars were flooded to such an extent that water rose to first floor levels through hot-air registers. Apartments in that area were especially hard hit.

Kids Have Fun

Probably the only happy people in the face of the deluge were the small Salemites, who kicked off shoes and stockings, and in some cases put on bathing suits to better enjoy the flow of water in the city's streets.

Parents, however, in many cases found themselves forced to spend part of the day cleaning out cellars and attempting to clear up conditions in their yards.

At the Salem Country club, west of the city on the Damascus road, the normal water level was surpassed in the lake, covering the steps which lead into the swimming pool area of the club lake and rising high enough to cover the wooden diving platform at the end of the pool section.

Routes 344 and 588, which intersect in Franklin Square, were closed as water rose to the top of
